GERMANS SWEEP SLAYS ASIDE IN GALICIAN DRIVE

Berlin Claims Many Prisoners and Numerous Big Guns Captured

WHOLE EASTERN FRONT SEES BITTER FIGHTING

Some Indication of Stronger Resistance By Russians Seen In Reports

(Associated Press Telegram) Berlin (via London), July 24.—The German armies in Galicia are advancing from the River Sereth to the wooded Carpathians over a front of five miles wide, says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters staff.

Several German divisions, the statement adds, report that they have taken 3,000 prisoners. Numerous heavy Russian guns have been captured and also much booty has been taken by the Germans.

Over the entire eastern front from the Baltic to the Black Sea bitter fighting is proceeding. The statement says great successes have been obtained by the German and allied arms.

An artillery battle of an intensity never paralleled previously is raging day and night in Flanders, the war office announces.

GERMANS SWEEP FORWARD.
(Associated Press Telegram) Copenhagen, July 24.—A dispatch from a war correspondent of the Lokal-Anzeiger of Berlin says that the Austro-German armies in Galicia are sweeping forward incessantly, notwithstanding desperate counterattacks by Siberian troops.

RESISTANCE IS STRONGER.
(Associated Press Telegram) New York, July 24.—Signs of a halt in the Russian retreat in eastern Galicia before the advancing Austro-German armies are largely wanting, but indications of stronger resistance in some sectors are cropping out. The Russian generals undoubtedly are doing their utmost to bring their men to the realization of the necessity of implicit obedience and the present plight of certain sections of the Muscovite armies, because of laxness in discipline, can hardly help serving as an object lesson.

The retreating powers of the Russians are admitted by Berlin to be strongly in evidence south of the Brachy line and it is here that such fighting capacities as the Russians are admitted by Berlin to be the limit.

The Austro-German forces are pressing southward in an effort to cut in between the Russian forces on their old line and the Danube river, success in which move would spell disaster to the Russian units in this sector.

While Premier Kerensky, armed with almost dictatorial powers, is struggling to right the situation on the Russian front the allied armies in the west are holding the threat of a renewed offensive over the Germans on the Franco-Belgian front. There has been notable activity of late by both the British and French artillery. The situation on the Alsace front appears to show that the crown prince fears a renewal of the French offensive here, his countless attacks being considered in many quarters an attempt to forestall it. On the British front the intense aerial and artillery activity presage important movements.

The main infantry movement of the last 24 hours was again in the Craonne sector where the crown prince launched another attack on the French lines without achieving any success. An attempt to advance was also made north of Saucy. This was likewise frustrated. Frequent raids by the Germans indicate their anxiety to learn the size and disposition of the forces opposing them.

The Russians have taken the offensive on both ends of the front in the regions of Jacobstadt and Dvinsk, and on the Rumanian line. The announcements have been of a series of operations by Russian and Rumanian troops in the Trotas and Patis valleys were defeated almost everywhere. Fresh fights developed today.

O'BRIEN REFEREE FOR KILBANE-LEONARD BOUT

(Associated Press Telegram) Philadelphia, July 24.—Arrangements for the Kilbane-Leonard fight at Shibe Park tomorrow night were virtually complete today with the announcement that Frank (Pop) O'Brien, of this city, will referee the six round bout. The names of four Philadelphia referees were placed in a hat and O'Brien's name was drawn. The selection was announced as satisfactory to both sides.

Kilbane and Leonard are reported to be in excellent condition. Under the articles of agreement they must make 133 pounds at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

FIVE BILLIONS MORE IS NEEDED FOR WAR EXPENSE

New Estimate Prepared By Secy. McAdoo For Senate Committee

BOND ISSUE OR TAXES IS UNDER DISCUSSION

Excess War Profits and Estates May Be Taxed to Raise Money

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—Secretary McAdoo today prepared new estimates for congress which show an excess of those already presented, and which will necessitate raising revenue not contemplated when the senate finance committee revised the war tax bill. The bill probably will be further revised.

The government, basing an estimate on the needs of the army and navy, wants the war tax bill to authorize an additional five billion dollars.

Secretary McAdoo will appear before the finance committee late today to explain the treasury's needs, based on the requirements of the army and navy. Whether the $5,000,000,000 would be raised by a bond issue had not been determined.

While no official intimation of the source of the new revenue was given before Secretary McAdoo went before the finance committee, there were indications that it would be drawn principally from excesses in miscellaneous taxes. Official figures are said to show that excess profits in the United States are now at the rate of $5,000,000,000 a year.

Secretary McAdoo asked Chairman Simmons of the finance committee to withhold reporting the bill to the Senate as had been planned for today until he could confer with the senators. The new situation threw all the plans for pushing the war tax bill away. Senate managers had no idea when the big measure for raising the revenues for conducting the war would move forward.

Before Secretary McAdoo appeared before the finance committee it was understood that the five billion dollars represented the estimates of the war and navy departments and that he would propose an additional billion dollars to be raised by taxation and seek authority for an additional credit of $2,500,000. Whether the latter sum was to be in bonds or certificates of indebtedness was not disclosed.

MILLION MEN IN FIRST DRAFT MAY BE NEW WAR PLAN

Washington, July 24.—An American army of one million men for service abroad at once instead of five hundred thousand contemplated for the first draft is foreshadowed by the government's request for an additional $500,000,000 made to the senate finance committee today.

The first million men are to be made up of the first draft army of 500,000, the national guard and the regulars. It is improbable that the first draft will be increased but the government is arranging its finances for another draft without the necessity of going to congress again for money.

PRESIDENT SIGNS AIR FLEET BILL

Washington, July 24.—The $200,000,000 airplane bill became a law today with President Wilson's signature.

This immense appropriation is only the beginning of preparations for the campaign intended to overwhelm Germany from the air. More than 20,000 planes are to be built as a first increment and there will be many thousands of aviators. The first task will be the instruction of the vast army of American fliers.

Germany, realizing the danger of the air campaign, already is feverishly building airplanes to fight the fleet coming to overwhelm her. The element of speed therefore is foremost in building the American fleet.

WAR'S NEWEST WEAPON CONFRONTS TURKS ON ANCIENT BATTLEFIELD OF HOLY LAND

This photo shows the latest invention of modern warfare going into battle on an ancient battlefield of the Holy Land. The smoke shown is caused by the engines which propel the machine. Gaza lies about two miles from the Mediterranean. The armies of Ramesses, of Alexander, of the Crusaders and of Napoleon must have marched across this very landscape.

MANY MINES GUARD ENGLISH CHANNEL; GERMANS FOILED

(Associated Press Telegram) A British Port on the Southeast Coast, June 20. (By Mail).—Across the eastern mouth of the English Channel, there still stretches the great barrier, which is one of the principal defenses of the allies' vital channel traffic against the visits of the German submarines.

The "barriers" they call the mine fields in naval phrase. It consists in general terms, of a series of obstructions stretched from huge steel buoys, shore to shore, 20 old mines. Any craft which strikes one of these obstructions straight away explodes a group of mines which spell ruin to the intruder.

A whole fleet of naval shipping is constantly engaged in maintaining and patrolling the great barrier. Its existence is no secret to the Germans for they are constantly sending over airplanes to chart the buoys and mark any changes that may have been made since their last visit. And changes are constantly being made.

Here and there along the line are secret openings through which naval pilots may guide legitimate craft on their way, but these openings are frequently altered, and not even the airplane eye of the German can tell which buoy marks safe passage and which marks destruction. If his mine-laying submarines wish to enter the channel, they must take their chances. They must cross submerged for the patrol boats are on constant duty, and if they escape the traps, submerged, it can only be said that another miracle has happened.

Such miracles seldom happen. Some times twice a week, some times often, explosions are heard at night from the great barrier, indicating that "something" has touched off a group of mines. Immediately the patrols hurry off in the direction of the explosion. What they find there is a well kept secret.

Last week the Germans tried a new plan to break the barrier. They sent over three seaplanes with orders to descend low over the barrier at any risk and shoot their machine guns into the buoys, thus sinking them and the barrier with them. But the patrol boats were on hand, and two of the three seaplanes never returned to their German home.

NONE DEPORTED UNJUSTLY SAYS CITIZENS LEAGUE

(Associated Press Telegram) Phoenix, Arizona, July 24.—The methods used in deporting members of the Industrial Workers of the World from El Paso on July 12, were explained to Governor Campbell last night by a committee of six citizens, representing the Citizens' Protective League of El Paso and Douglas.

The visitors told the governor that great care had been used in order that none should be sent unjustly from the district and that members of the Industrial Workers of the World would not again be admitted to the Warren mining district.

Governor Campbell told the committee that deporting I. W. W.'s was not the proper way to land the situation. He said he would expect them to abide by the law in the future. The governor said that in spite of what the committee had told him, he was confident some innocent persons had been deported.

NAVY REQUISITIONS SHIPS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—Requisitioning of commercial ships was begun today by Secretary Daniels. Seven tank steamers were ordered to report at Atlantic and Pacific ports to carry fuel oil for the navy.

KAISER SNEERS AT AMERICA IN WAR

(Associated Press Telegram) Bern, Switzerland, July 24.—British Admiralty per Wireless Press.—The Post Zeitung of Augsburg, Bavaria, says at the reception given recently in Berlin by Emperor William to members of the Reichstag, the emperor in conversing with Philipp Scheidemann, the Socialist leader, spoke slightly of America and expressed the conviction that the United States would not play a decisive part in the war.

OFFICIAL LISTS FOR DRAFT ARE MAILED TO BOARDS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—Master lists of the draft—the official and last word assigning each of the ten million to his place in the national army, were going forward in the mails today to the 457 local boards. They supersede all hitherto published lists and rectify all errors. The lists have been prepared with the greatest care and safeguards against errors. Printed by the most expert and trusted men in the government printing office they have been proofread three times by veteran proofreaders.

In order that each district board may be assured of getting a list in the mails two copies are being mailed to each—one in one mail and one in another. The theory of this practice is that if one list goes astray the other surely will reach its destination.

The summoning of the men of the first increment before the local board will quickly follow the receipt of the official master lists. Until the men are summoned they are free to volunteer.

Examination of the master list shows that red ink number 5,794 has been placed as No. 10,500 in the order of drawing. It is assumed that this was the missing number and was placed last, although the blank capsule first came up as No. 10,004. It had previously been understood that red ink number 464 was the missing number but that number was later found as No. 3,652 where the master sheet shows it as such.

Another correction on the unofficial list shown is red ink number 570 as liability No. 3512. It was transmitted as 507 but duplicated liability No. 507 but duplicated liability No. 236. The master sheet shows red ink No. 507 as liability number No. 236.

MICHAELIS' SPEECH IS PEACE BID SAYS LEWIS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—Senator Lewis declared in the senate yesterday that in his opinion the recent speech of Dr. Michaelis, a direct chancellor of Germany, was a direct invitation to the United States to use its influence for peace. He said he believed the central powers would be willing to accept without victory.

HIG FIELD AT DETROIT

(Associated Press Telegram) Detroit, July 24.—Thirteen horses, one of the largest fields in years, are entered in the racing classic of the Detroit Grand Circuit meeting, the $3,000 Board of Commerce stake for 2:06 p.m., the chief event of today's program. The entry list is fairly evenly balanced and no strong favorite has been put forth.

RULE FAVORING THE RED CROSS BRINGS CONCERTED PROTEST

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, July 24.—A rumor that the privilege of transporting war relief supplies free of charge to France is to be withdrawn from all organizations except the Red Cross has resulted in a protest from some 70 societies embraced in the Federal Council of Allied War Charities. Representatives of the organizations who will meet tomorrow with Robert C. Lovett, chairman of the Red Cross committee on co-operation, have been instructed to ascertain if there is any truth in the report that General Pershing was already enforcing an order that there be no free transportation for any supplies save those of the Red Cross and the government.

A few of the speakers at a meeting yesterday of the allied societies, said as General Pershing had no authority to make regulations regarding shipments of supplies it was supposed that the order came from the war department. Frederick H. Allen, general chairman of the Federal Council of Allied War Relief Charities, declared that Mr. Lovett would be asked if the privilege of free transportation would be withdrawn from organizations that do not accept the terms proposed by the Red Cross for affiliation. If it is true, Mr. Allen explained, it would mean that these organizations would have to accept affiliation with the Red Cross or go out of business.

Charges of coercive methods and resentment over the situation were pressed by some of the speakers. Others, however, announced that they were in favor of accepting the agreement offered by the Red Cross and proposed by Mr. Lovett at a previous conference for the centralizing all relief work.

Excitation of the independent organizations from the privilege of transporting their supplies free to Europe was great. It was said that these organizations would be required to pay $50 a ton for supplies sent abroad. This could be done, it was learned, by the Red Cross clearing house which could exclude independent organizations from transporting supplies free to Europe.

THE BOLSHEVIKI IS BLAMED FOR RUSS MEETING IN GALICIA

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—The double crisis in Russia which has caused military disaster on the Galician front and political upheaval in Petrograd was said to be due in large measure to the agitation of the Bolsheviks headed by Nicolai Lenin, who was given a free pass across Germany into Russia. The party is said to stand for immediate peace on all fronts but not as yet for a separate peace for Russia alone. The Bolsheviks are said to be small in number and in some cases to be aided by German agents. Their activities among the troops on the Galician front was sufficient, it was stated, to detach special regiments in important strategic positions which caused the immediate falling back of the whole line to prevent envelopment.

INDIAN CAVALRY REGIMENTS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—The Kahn bill to organize ten or more regiments of Indian cavalry as part of the American military forces was considered by the House military committee today. The measure proposes that reservations be visited by medical examiners and recruiting officers and all available Indians invited to enlist.

GEN. GOETHALS RESIGNS WILSON ASKS DENMAN FOR HIS RESIGNATION

Row Among High Officials of Shipping Board Compels President to Reorganize Forces to Stop Delay of Ship Building

CHICAGO MAN AND NAVY ENGINEER ARE TO REPLACE THE RETIRING OFFICIALS

Resignation of John B. White, Father of R. B. White of Newark, Also is Accepted and Bainbridge Colby of New York, Takes His Place—Heads of Board Differ As to Relative Merits of Steel and Wood For Hulls Up Program of Government—President's Action Ends Controversy

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—President Wilson today asked Chairman Denman of the shipping board to resign and accepted the resignation of Major General Goethals as general manager of the emergency steel corporation. Edward N. Hurley, a Chicago business man, and former chairman of the federal trade commission, will become chairman of the shipping board. Washington L. Capps, chief contractor of the navy, will succeed General Goethals as general manager of the emergency steel corporation. Bainbridge Colby, of New York, will become a member of the shipping board in place of Captain John B. White, whose resignation the president also accepted today.

Official announcement of the acceptance of the resignations of Goethals and White was made with publication of a letter President Wilson wrote to Chairman Denman asking for his resignation and giving the president's opinion that the only way to end the row which has delayed the ship building program was for both Goethals and Denman to be removed from the situation.

Chairman Denman received the president's request for his resignation at noon and tendered it immediately.

"I want to help the president in every way possible," he said, "and never have questioned the wisdom of his decisions."

In asking for Mr. Denman's resignation, President Wilson suggested that he would be glad to take the "same disinterested and self-forgetting course that General Goethals has taken."

"When you have done as he has done," the President wrote Mr. Denman, "I am sure that you may count with the utmost confidence upon the ultimate verdict of the people of the country with regard to your magnanimous and unselfish view of public duty and upon winning in the retrospect the same admiration and confidence that I have learned to feel for you."

President Wilson's action came as a surprise. Officials generally had thought he would make a further effort to patch up differences and divide specifically between Chairman Denman and General Goethals powers conferred on him by the shipping act.

The President's letter to Mr. Denman follows:

"I hope and believe that I am interpreting your best judgment as well as my own when I say that our duty concerning the debate and misunderstanding that have arisen in connection with the ship building program ought to be settled without regard to our personal preferences or our personal feelings altogether, and with the single purpose of doing what will be best to serve the public interest."

"No decision we can now arrive at could eliminate the new element of controversy that have crept into the most every question in connection with the program, and I am convinced that the only wise course is to begin afresh—not upon the program, for that is already in large part in process of execution—but upon the further execution of it."

"I have found both you and General Goethals ready to serve the public at personal sacrifice, and realizing that the only manner in which the way can be completely cleared for harmonious and effective action is to carry our ship building plans forward from this point through new agencies. General Goethals has put his resignation in my hands and I have accepted it in the same spirit in which it was tendered—not much deciding between two men whom I respect and admire, but in order to make irrevocable decisions unnecessary and let the work be developed without further discussion of what is past."

"I am taking the liberty of writing to tell you this in the confidence that you will be glad to take the same disinterested and self-forgetting course that General Goethals has taken. When you have done as he has done I am sure that you may count with the utmost confidence upon the ultimate verdict of the people of the country with regard to your magnanimous and unselfish view of public duty and upon winning in the retrospect the same admiration and confidence that I have learned to feel for you."

"With much regard and very great appreciation of the large services you have rendered."

"Cordially and sincerely yours,"

"Woodrow Wilson."

President Wilson's letter to General Goethals follows.

"Your letter of July 20 does you great honor. (This was the general's letter of resignation). It is conceived in a fine spirit of public duty, such as I have learned to expect of you. This is, as you say, a case where the service of the public is the only thing to be considered. Personal feelings and personal preferences must be resolutely set aside, and we must do the thing that is most for the public. It is with that thought in mind that I have been strained to say that I think that you have interpreted your duty rightly."

"No impartial determination of the questions at issue can flow from the ship building program promptly and successfully on its way to completion and success. It is best that we take the self-forgetting course you suggest and begin again with a fresh sheet of paper. Hence, not the ship building, but the further administration of the program. The ship building is happily in large part begun and can now readily be pushed to completion if the air be cleared of the debates that have unfortunately darkened it."

"With deep appreciation, therefore, of your generous attitude and with warm admiration of what you have been able to do in a short time to accomplish, I accept your resignation and feel that in doing so I am acting upon your best judgment as well as my own. I hope that you will feel the same undoubting confidence that I feel that the people of the country, for whom you have rendered a great service, will judge you justly and generously in this as in other things, and that all personal misunderstandings and misjudgments that have been created will pass in a short time entirely away."

SENTRY STOPS CAR WITH SHOT; BELGIAN ENVOY IN PARTY

(Associated Press Telegram) Louisville, Ky., July 24.—A sentry guarding the customhouse discharged his rifle at the parade of the Belgian war mission here today when the car leading the procession refused to heed his command to halt. The rifleman fired above the heads of the occupants of the car. He was placed under arrest.

The mission was about to enter the camp under the guidance of H. T. Kelsey, who was in the first car directly in front of Baron Moncheur, chief of the mission. Kelsey is a civilian and planned the camp. When the order to halt was received he directed the chauffeur to ignore it. The sentry promptly fired over the car and it came to a halt. A military officer from the camp who was in the second car with General Leclerc, ordered the sentryman relieved from duty.

Military men in charge of the party declared the episode was justified in firing when his command was ignored.

The mission was entertained here by a drive about the city and at a public luncheon. At 2 o'clock they left for Cincinnati, the last stop on the tour of more than 2,000 miles.

REPUBLICANS PLAY PEANUT POLITICS DECLARES SENATOR

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—During a bitter debate today between Democrats and Republicans on Senator Penrose's resolution to investigate the committee on public information, Senator Penrose declared administration of both war and navy departments was marked by indecision and inefficiency. He proposed early investigation.

Senator James of Kentucky, Democrat, replying, referred to "copperheadism and sniping" in the senate and said Senator Penrose was attempting to play "peanut politics" by making baseless charges.

The starting point of the debate was Senator Penrose's resolution attacking the official account of the fight between German submarines and American transports on the way to France. From that it branched off into a wide range of war topics and developed considerable adverse criticism of the administration from Republicans, culminating in a vigorous speech by Senator James criticizing Senators Penrose and Lodge.

"If this spirit of criticism of those in charge of war continues," said Senator James, "America will be crippled at home—right in this chamber."

Senator Lodge interjected that congress has the right to inquire how war appropriations are spent.

"Does the senator mean to suggest that the president is not spending this money properly?" asked Senator James with anger.

"I never implied any such thing," returned Senator Lodge, "but the president is not sacred and we have the right to inquire about public expenditures."

When Senator James referred to copperheadism, Senator Fordworth of New York, Republican, demanded to know if he used that term advisedly, and Senator James replied that he so used it.

"Calling names and talking about copperheadism is not going to prevent proper inquiry," said Senator Lodge.

"And criticism of officials trying to do their best," Senator James retorted, "will not find favor with the American people."

"I want to deny first and last," Senator Penrose interjected emphatically, "that I am attacking anybody. But I do say that in my opinion the administration of both the navy and war departments is marked by indecision and inefficiency which will rapidly become, at the present rate, a public scandal and I propose to investigate it at the earliest possible moment."

"And you probably have as much basis for that statement as you have for your resolution," Senator James heatedly replied. "Is that copperheadism? Is that sniping? No, rising to the dignity of neither, it is merely Penrose-ing. Such an attempt to make peanut politics as has been made by the senator from Pennsylvania, Mr. Penrose, will not affect the public in the slightest degree."

After two hours' hot debate no action was taken on Mr. Penrose's resolution, which proposed an investigation of the submarine attack and the committee of public information. The resolution went to the senate calendar and to be called up again will require a majority vote.

BELGIANS IN LOUISVILLE.

(Associated Press Telegram) Louisville, Ky., July 24.—There was a military welcome for the Belgian war mission when its members reached here today. The entire First Regiment of the Kentucky National Guard stood up before the station and drew in salute as the visitors passed out for a five hours' visit.

BATTERY C BOYS ENJOY GIFTS FROM NEWARK FRIENDS

Battery C. Boys these days are shouting a new battle-cri. It is "they don't forget us back in Newark." It was adopted following the arrival of a box containing tobacco, stogies, cigars, gum, candy, magazines and other articles which was filled by Newark people in a sort of community movement to remember the Newark boys who have joined the colors.

Acknowledgement of the arrival of the gifts was received this morning by H. A. Aherton, tobacco dealer, at whose place of business the box was filled by patrons T. A. Feener, in his letter, expressed the thanks of the boys for the box and told of its distribution. The letter written at 8 o'clock Thursday, "by candle-light" follows:

"Just got in from a 'slap-bang' fast drill with the big guns. It would be worth the price to a wild-west show to see the boys maneuver in and out of different formations at a trot and sometimes at a gallop. "The box arrived at 6:30 p. m. immediately after mess. I left it in the battery office and sent a committee composed of 'Beeb' Fessler and T. E. Smales to rouse the Newark boys and get them lined up for the visit from Santa Claus. Military discipline prevailed and they all lined up. I made an inventory of the stuff and sent the committee up and down the line distributing as proportionately as human calculation could. A few of the fellows were on guard and several were on pass to Indianapolis, however there was as equal a distribution as the varied lots would permit. The battle cry was, 'they don't forget us back in Newark.' "Perhaps for the present I had better close as 'call to quarters will blow soon.' " A. F. FEENEY.

NEW ARTILLERY UNITS. (Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—Eight new regiments of cavalry equipped and trained as artillery will be added to the regular army as quickly as they can be organized, by orders issued yesterday. Provision for the new cavalry units was authorized in the army bill, but the need for more artillery caused the war department to add them to the service and handlers of the big guns. Other cavalry units being organized are being given training to fit them for infantry work.

Join the merry crowd at 9 o'clock in the morning, in witnessing the athletic events and contests which will be spirited and exciting from the very start. These contests are for men, women, boys and girls and $50 will be given away to the winners. Program will be published in tomorrow's papers.

The Grangers' prize drill will start promptly at 10 o'clock in front of the grand stand. These drills promise to be one of the best entertainments of the picnic and $50 will be given to the three winning teams—$25, $15 and $10.

Much interest is being manifested by the committee to select city men to pull against the Grangers in the tug of war. The strongest rope in the county has been obtained for this great struggle. Just watch the 26 Newarkites pull against 26 Grangers. The races this year promise to be the best ever seen at picnic or at matinee races.

NEWARK K. OF C. TO START DRIVE FOR WAR CAMP FUNDS

Beginning next Monday, July 30, the Newark Knights of Columbus will enter on their campaign for a war fund, designated by the war department to look after the moral and social welfare of soldiers and sailors. The campaign will be carried on much the same as the Red Cross and on next Monday a meeting will be held under Chairman O. E. Willert for the purpose of selecting captains and designating them to wards.

The allotment for Newark is $1,000 and $544 has been raised now, leaving a balance of $456 to be raised by subscription. This is the largest task ever undertaken by the Knights of Columbus and the responsibility is very great. The Knights will have to erect Catholic centers and suitable places for the celebration of mass in each of the sixteen cantonsments to be established in this country. The selection of the Knights of Columbus as the official agency of Catholic service in the army and navy is a direct result of the efficient work done for the soldiers on the Mexican border.

The chairman of the war department's commission on training camp activities, Raymond B. Fosdick, in a letter to Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty said in part:

Lacking county's best, young, snappy trotters and pacers will entertain in two pace and two trot races.

The family having the largest number at headquarters at the Newark Chamber of Commerce tent will receive $1 for each one present. The dance hall will be waxed and in first class condition and decorated. You may dance from 10-2 a. m. all day and evening to the strains of a full orchestra.

Governor James M. Cox and Homer C. Price of the State Board of Agriculture will be the speakers. The speaking will take place right after the Grange parade at 1 p. m. Five lunch stands will be on the grounds on the day of the picnic, at the service of the people, where good lunches, coffee and lemonade can be had all day long and plenty of it.

Emmitt C. McDaniels has leased the Park Hotel and annex at the entrance of the Fair Grounds, where he will serve dinner at noon and evening, as well as lunch all day long. So why go hungry?

Ice cream and ice cream cones of the best quality will be served all day and evening. The manager is preparing to take good care of the big crowd with plenty of seats and good service.

There will be many stands where ice cold lemonade, pop and Bevo can be had from early morning until late at night.

"At the meeting of the Commission on Training Camp Activities it was unanimously voted to recommend to the secretary of war the acceptance of the generous proposition of the Knights of Columbus, and Secretary Baker yesterday indicated his agreement with our resolution, and we shall be glad to co-operate with you in every way possible, and we hope that success will follow your efforts to raise the money necessary to prosecute the work."

NEWARK WOMAN, 87 YEARS OLD, IS KNITTING FOR NAVY

Helene Chappet, D. A. R. will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. J. B. Jones, 109 North Fourth Street. The committee wishes all finished garments to be brought in, so that sets may be packed for shipping. The sets consist of the four knitted pieces—sleeve, wristlet, sweater and hosiery—and there are a great many pieces being made, so that as soon as the single pieces are brought in, they will be made up into sets. In the window of the Meyer & Lindorf store may be seen a figure on which the garments are displayed. The sweater which is displayed is the work of Mrs. Denning, aged 87 years, who is the mother of Dr. Denning.

Amusements

AUDITORIUM. "The Shepherd of the Hills." The book that made Harold Bell Wright famous, which later made into a play, made a fortune for its producers was offered by the Auditorium stock company last evening to fairly good crowds. "The Shepherd of the Hills" is full of good clean comedy and with its quaint characters such as "Old Mat," "Young Mat," "Preaching" Bill, "Sammy," played by Miss Baird, is well worth seeing. Several special sets painted by Mr. Allen, the scenic artist are used and in all a very delightful evening's entertainment is provided. A matinee is being given today and the same play will be seen tonight and tomorrow.

This company is one of merit and should attract better houses and being given together with the picture program, one piece of admission to see both, should be the means of attracting show goers. To those who want to enjoy a hearty laugh, we would suggest a visit to the Auditorium either today or tomorrow.

"The Little Boy Scout." Large crowds yesterday saw that clever little Paramount star Ann Pennington in "The Little Boy Scout." This picture is seen tonight from 7 until 9 p. m. It is seen just after the stock company's production of "The Shepherd of the Hills," and can be seen both for the one piece of admission. The story of "The Little Boy Scout" is that Justina Howland lives in Mexico near two days' sunshine for its patrons this week in the presence of June Carice who will appear there in William Fox's "Patsy," beginning Friday and Saturday.

"Patsy" is filled with more sunshine and happiness than any picture play in which the "Sunshine Maid" has yet appeared. It is also crowded with more sunshine and happiness than any picture play in which the "Sunshine Maid" has yet appeared. It is also crowded with more thrills and adventure.

Jane Lee. Clever Jane Lee comes to the Auditorium Friday and Saturday of this week. She will be seen in the William Fox feature "Patsy," in which June Carice is the star. She will be good news to the kiddies for Jane is a popular favorite with Newark picture fans.

ALHAMBRA. Tonight. Remarkable camera work in "The Devil's Assistant," Margarita Fischer's latest picture, shows the ghostly vision of the villain's eyes floating through space in otherwise substantial scenes—enough to shake the convictions of the unbeliever in the supernatural.

Wednesday and Thursday. The next World-Picture Brady-Made to be seen in this city will be "The Stolen Paradise" in which charming Ethel Clayton is the star and in which she is seen in a particularly appealing role. Playing opposite Miss Clayton is Edward Langford and he plays the part of a blind man who later regains his sight under the most thrillingly dramatic circumstances. All the members of the supporting company are particularly capable and are extremely well cast. "The Stolen Paradise" will be the attraction at the Alhambra theater on Wednesday and Thursday.

BAPTIST ASSEMBLY A N D CHAUTAUQUA GRANVILLE AUG. 2-12

Licking county is to have a summer school of methods in Sunday school and young people's work. Every one interested is urged to be present. The school is to be held in connection with the Ohio Baptist Assembly and Granville Chautauqua on the grounds of Denison University, August 2-12. The school is open to pastors, officers, teachers, young people's society leaders, and other workers. The sessions will be held largely in the forenoon of each day throughout the assembly while the afternoon and evening will be given over to lectures, concerts and general entertainments.

Elementary Sunday school work will have attention in two 45-minute periods each day. Adult and secondary work will each have a period every day. Young people's work lectures will be given at the first period each morning.

The Bible hour is at 9:15 and at 10:15 there will be home and foreign mission study classes for young people. The women's mission lectures will be given at 1 and 1:45 each afternoon. Credit will be given for work done and certificates will be granted.

In addition to these features there will be a pastors' conference with sessions each afternoon. One hour each day in this conference will be given to the problems of rural church-work, and the next hour to subjects bearing on general church efficiency. Every pastor in Licking county will be heartily welcomed and there is no charge for registration here or in other departments of the school. Some of the leading church-workers in our own and other states will give lectures. Henry Israel of New York, editor of Rural Manhood, will be present on Tuesday, August 7, for an address and conference. Every rural church pastor in Licking county ought to hear him.

Another interesting department will be the vacation school for boys and girls, held each day from 9:15 to 11:30, under the direction of Rev. Raymond S. Carman of Fairport, N. Y., and a corps of skilled workers. Here will be an opportunity to witness the latest and best methods of organized work and play for boys and girls in vacation time.

The hearty support of Christian people of the county is needed in order that this may become a permanent institution. Many cannot go to Chautauqua or Winona. All can go to Granville.

In addition there are to be special days with good programs and great speakers. The W. C. T. U. day, Saturday, August 4, ought to draw a great crowd of W. C. T. U. workers, when Mrs. Lucy Van Kirk will preside and Mrs. Frances Ensign Fuller, vice president of the Ohio W. C. T. U., will give an address, "On the Firing Line." Admission free.

On Monday afternoon, August 6, there will be patriotic exercises with a band concert and address by Judge Joseph W. O'Neill of Columbus. Every G. A. R. post and every other patriotic organization in the county is invited to be in charge for admission.

On Wednesday, August 8, Grange Day exercises will have the right-of-way with a program and address by L. J. Taber, master of Ohio State Grange. Hon. J. S. Graham will preside.

A great attraction, not announced until now, will be the exhibition of beautiful paintings by Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Fauley.

Many of these paintings have been on exhibition at the World's Fair in St. Louis, in the National Academy Exhibition, New York City; Corcoran Gallery, Washington; Museum of Fine Arts in Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, and other cities. By courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Fauley, this exhibition will be found in Cleveland hall, and will be free to all.

Every afternoon and evening will be given over to concerts, lectures and general entertainments by some of the best talent in the country.

HOW TO JUDGE A WOMAN BY HER HAIR

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, and make a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

MEDAL FOR VALOR TO BELGIUM'S LOVED QUEEN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, July 24.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, has presented a medal for military valor to Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, in expression of admiration for the courage which the queen has shown since the beginning of the war. This incident is another refutation of a rumor which has been current since the Germans made their successful drive in Belgium near Nieuport, that the queen of Belgium had been taken prisoner by the British for having supplied information to the enemy.

A man has to go to a dentist to have his teeth pulled, but anybody can pull his leg.

God's Care

(Written for the many whose loved ones are called to war.)
By Martha Wintermute.
Be this your faith, that God can shield
The precious treasure called your own,
On treacherous sea or battle field,
In any time, in any zone.
Your safety and your strength is this,
Where God is, hope and help is there,
He lives to answer prayer.

The One that notes the sparrow's need Feels for the broken hearts that bleed,
The mother's tears, the father's care,
His great compassion still will share,
Your safety and your strength is this,
Where God is, hope and help is there,
He lives to answer prayer.

And this is faith, that you should rest,
In loving trust upon His breast,
Such faith His glory will enhance,
Which far above all time and chance,
Mid darkest clouds, still clears your cry,
Then in your grief do not despair,
For He will answer prayer.

Our only hope then let us make
His might our refuge in the storm,
The charge we give Him He will take
And keep and shield from every harm,
Master of tempest, war and strife,
His voice can still the storms of life,
He lives His own to bless and cheer,
Then let us pray for He is near.

HANOVER FOLKS TO HAVE CHAUTAUQUA 3 DAYS' PROGRAM

The village of Hanover will hold a community chautauqua, August 18, 19 and 20, in the Willis Rector grove, west of the village.

The chautauqua is the first ever brought to Hanover and some fine talent has been arranged for. The Civic Chautauqua company of Indiana will furnish the speakers.

Twenty men, under the leadership of Rev. H. T. Bay, are managing the affair and they are determined to make it a success. The ticket sale will begin Thursday and a canvass of the entire surrounding county will be made.

Union services will be held Sunday the 19th, and a prominent educator will speak in the interest of civic betterment.

STUDENT OFFICERS AT FT. HARRISON ON HOME STRETCH

(Special to The Advocate.)

Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., July 23.—With only three more weeks of the present training camp left, the student officers here are doing their very best to make a good showing on the home stretch. Already examinations have been given in infantry drill regulations, field service regulations, and manual of court martial. The coming week the oral adaptability examination takes place before a board composed of regular army officers at which time every candidate for a commission will be quizzed individually in order to determine his fitness to become an officer in the new national army. The following factors will be considered in making the selection for commissions: the candidate's attitude toward discipline, attention to duty, general bearing and military appearance, his ability to control men in a disciplinary way, his ability as a tactical leader, his moral, mental and physical qualifications, his age and marksmanship.

The feature of last week's work consisted in a five hour hike on Friday, followed by the pitching of shelter tents and cooking of meals. At night a regular outpost was established, and sentinels posted until 10 p. m.

The Newark men as usual are attending to their duties with the same vigor and spirit which have characterized their work here during the entire camp. Willis Handel has been acting lieutenant of the Third company, and Carl Meyer in the Fifth company. Eugene Bado and Walter Tritipio have also held responsible positions in their respective companies this week. Richard Jones and Leland Stevenson were successful in passing their preliminary examination for provisional second lieutenants in the regular army, and will take their final examination this week. Ralph Priest, John Fleck and Harold Rutledge of the First Ohio Battery of Field Artillery, have had no trouble in mastering the intricate principles of artillery range estimation, gun and caisson mechanism, and various other principles connected with their branch of the service. No personal concern was shown by the men here in regard to the drawing of the draft numbers, as they are already in the service of the United States.

Next week's work consists of physical drill, combat firing, bayonet fighting, battalion and company drill in close and extended order, and practical problems in attack and defense. Afternoon conferences will be devoted to manual of court martial and rules of land warfare. A portion of the drill will take place at night in order to accustom the men to night work. Instruction will also be given this week in the throwing of hand grenades, and use of the modern machine and rapid fire gun.

K. OF P. DAY AT BUCKEYE LAKE PARK

Friday, July 27, will be K. of P. Day at Buckeye Lake Park, when the Initiatory Team of Iola Lodge, No. 87, of Dayton, O., will give an exhibition initiation, free to the general public, afternoon and evening, on a specially constructed stage on Park athletic field. Music will be furnished by the Boys' Band, composed of children from the Knights of Pythias Home at Springfield. This is the grandest spectacular performance known in the history of fraternal organizations.

The initiatory team consists of the lodge officers and senators, to which has been added four sets of guards, each of eight men with standard bearer and bugler. The team has blue, yellow and red guards, the three emblematic colors, to which has been added the white guards, white being the universal symbol of purity. Each guard has its own captain. There are also excitements, heralds, stage and scenery operators, property and floor men, calcium light operators, electricians, lots of its own quartette, its own band and its own orchestra of 15 pieces. All of these men have their own special work to perform.

The team is equipped with care for the minutest detail. The costumes are especially designed by some of its own members. Fabulous sums have been expended for paraphernalia. The robes of the officers are made of the richest velvet and silk. The togas for the senators, and the armor for the guards and attendants, are accurately designed Grecian costumes of the time of the story of Damon and Pythias, about B. C. 400. The robe of the king is a gorgeous garment, which, under the glare of the calcium light, glows and sparkles like burnished gold. This robe was designed by a member of the team and cost more than four hundred dollars. The jeweled crown and sceptre of the king are both appropriate and artistic. The team owns its own scenery which also is used in the presentation of the play, "Damon and Pythias." More than forty pieces of scenery are carried when the play is to be presented. A baggage car is required to haul the paraphernalia. The execution of the various and intricate and military evolutions is a brilliant spectacle never to be forgotten.

In presenting this great spectacle the team has visited all the great cities in this country and has traveled farther than around the world.

When it is announced that the German will be danced, hyper-patriotic people take French leave.

What the country wants in this ship-building row is more noise of the hammer and less clicking of typewriters.

Pretty hard to get the food bill through congress when it is simply for the benefit of the whole country instead of for some separate districts.

After rejoicing in the quiet of the Mexican border, recently President Wilson should give three distinct knocks on wood, and have Secretary Tumulty witness the same.

Feeling the necessity of making some response to the popular demands, the kaiser puts in a new chancellor who will give the people even less than before.

It seems strange to many people that the navy does not issue a full description of how every submarine is sunk so that the Germans will know what to look out for next time.

Those people who a year or two ago were going to put a substitute for gasoline on the market at three cents a gallon, are nobly and persistently resisting the call to a very illustrious fame.

SPEED UP CONGRESS.

There is always a response to the demands of constituents if the demand is persisted and the cause is just.

The National administration is advocating much splendid legislation at Washington but red tape and personal jealousy and no doubt other reasons are delaying the efficient conduct of the war. The readers of The Advocate will remember if they will write to Senators Pomeroy and Harding demanding the building of ships and the enactment of pending measures. Representatives Ashbrook, our Seventeenth district congressman, has stood and is standing loyally by the president and so far as the Ohio Senators are concerned the two have backed the administration, except when the maintenance of "senatorial courtesy" they permitted legislation to drag. Delay in congressional action means the unnecessary sacrifice of American lives. Every hour wasted imperils our cause. Congress should get down to business, eliminate the red tape and stop talking. We are in a serious business and there is no time to waste.

WAR TRANSFORMATIONS.

War experiences are remaking a great many personalities. The writer has in mind a fellow who always had a reputation for conceit and dandyism. But since the war came on he has become interested in military affairs, and will soon go to France, an experience for which he is eager.

His very defects in civil life seem to work out well in the military field. His conceit becomes the self-confidence that a commander needs, and does not seem offensive. His dandyism becomes merely the strict regard for details that spells soldierly success. This fellow is now drilling young men, putting into them his confidence and his pride in appearance, and one of these days he will return a hero.

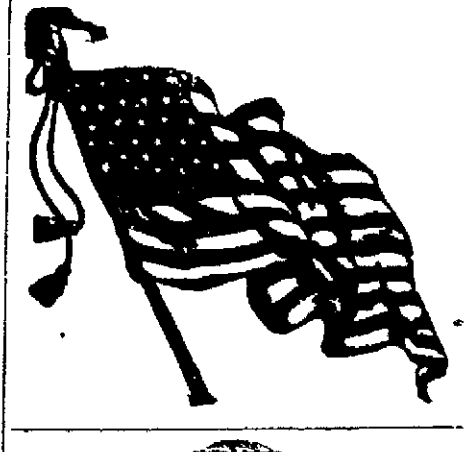

War brings a dreadful train of sorrow, but it turns many fellows from little men into big ones. It is the law of life that self-sacrifice brings rewards. No man who has offered his life to his country will be as pretty afterwards as he was before.

AIR RAIDS AND REPRISALS.

(Philadelphia Record.)

In defending their air raids upon London and other English cities and towns, Germans always lay stress upon the military aspect of these operations. They refer to London as a fortress, which, of course, it is not, and speak of the barracks, docks, shipping, arsenals, munition plants, etc., against which their aviators are supposed to aim their bombs. They point out, too, that these raids make it necessary for the British government to maintain at home a very large part of its air fleet, and that the effectiveness of its aerial service in France is correspondingly decreased. By attacks upon English cities and towns the Germans claim that they are really protecting their armies in the field, and apparently they are.

Whatever one may think of these arguments, they seem to the average distant observer a sufficient justification for the adoption of a similar policy on the part of Great Britain, and it is, therefore, gratifying to learn that the British government has decided to adopt vigorous counter-measures against the German raiders, who on Sunday killed a few more victims with bombs. If Germany benefits in a military way by forcing the British to retain hundreds of aviators at home as a measure of protection, why should not British raiders retaliate and by attacks upon German cities divert to home defense the machines which now seek victims across the channel? There has been a lack of aggressiveness in the English attitude which cannot be pleasing to its allies. The sentimental reasons advanced for rejecting a policy of reprisals, that the British government does not wish to descend to the level of the Germans in this matter, are quite lost upon the latter. They are achieving direct results by the raids, and it seems foolish to ignore this fact.

It is refreshing to note that no such fanciful considerations restrain the French. When German aviators attack their cities the French retaliate in kind, as they did recently, when 34 of their machines dropped over 30 tons of bombs upon German communities. The valley of the Rhine, which is crowded with important industrial cities, lies but a few miles from the French border, and presents many shining marks, and the British have established a large aviation center at some convenient point on French soil and entered upon a vigorous campaign of retaliation in keeping with the German raids the presumption is that the latter would cease. This is one respect, the proximity of many large German cities to the enemies' lines, in which the kaiser's country is extremely vulnerable. If the United States trains and sends a large force of aviators to France it is to be hoped that in this matter our government will be guided by military reasons rather than by sentiment.

PIFFLE.

(New York Sun.)

Dr. Lindley Miller Keasbey has lost his University of Texas job, after immortalizing himself with his expressed opinion that "a lot of this talk about France and Belgium is piffle," and now finds himself appropriately paired with Scott Nearing, a notable victim of the prejudice against foolish free speech. Both of them labor in the People's Council for Democracy and Terms of Peace, an organization which needs only $5,000 or so to end the war in a manner thoroughly satisfactory to Prussia.

Both of these eminent practitioners of the art of loose talk have suffered at the hands of unsympathetic university governing bodies, which stupidly believe that representatives of the institutions which they direct ought to be dignified in their utterances and considerate of the effect produced by their outpourings. It has long been a reproach to the higher educational establishments of the country that common sense and native intelligence are not barred from their directing councils, and no matter what pains are taken by the eager world reconstructors in the faculties to turn the colleges into bedlams, some remnant of level-headedness is likely at any moment to foil their efforts and preserve a continuity of good sense against the most earnest and unrelenting of its enemies.

Some people are slow but sure, even in the pursuit of happiness.

AMERICA AND THE WAR.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

The pacifist wholeheartedly, the Socialist spasmodically have done their best to hinder the prosecution of the Allies' war plans. If they have achieved anything they may account it this, that they have given comfort to the Central Powers, delayed the inevitable triumph of the Entente Powers, and so prolonged the bloodshed and misery of the war. In saying this there is no intention of casting the slightest aspersion on the good faith or purity of motive of either, it is only intended to question their political acumen. The Socialists, of course, it is impossible to class as a body. In Germany, as Herr Bebel always insisted they would, they have marched to the beat of the drum. In France they have rallied to the flag at the call of Monsieur Thomas. In Italy the majority have obeyed the call of Signor Boselli. In the United Kingdom it is only a minority which, under the leadership of Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Snowden, have separated themselves from the overwhelming majority of their countrymen. In the United States nothing has so far occurred definitely to demand any alignment.

Now that the great body of the pacifists and the minority Socialists really believe that they are, by their attitude, consulting the best interests of humanity, there is no reason, as has been said, to doubt. But it would really be extremely interesting to know in what way they imagine the liberties of the race would be subserved, or the future peace of the world assured by the triumph of the Middle Europe group. Perhaps if they had experienced, in their own persons, the gentle mercies of the Turk to the Armenian, the Bulgarian to the Serb, the Austrian to the Rumanian, or the German to the Belgian, they might be less academic in their views on the situation. Let us imagine, for the moment, that the powers of Europe rushed into the war with the uncontrolled passions of the cats of Kilkenny. Let us try to imagine that the great overseas dominions are peopled with bellicose aristocrats and plutocratic pluralists intent only on dominion and dividends. Even then there remained still the one just man, determined upon neutrality, the United States of America.

For two and a half years the just man watched from across the Atlantic the hurly-burly of slaughter, from the banks of the Somme to Bagdad, and from the Baltic to the forests of Africa. Then one day the just man spoke. He explained just what he thought of the murder of the Armenian nation, just what he had observed of the sinister conspiracy planned by an autocracy running amuck through the world for its own personal ends, and he announced that in the name of humanity, in the name of civilization, in the name of right and justice, he too was coming into the welter to insure liberty and progress from being blotted off the globe. And for this purpose he also called out his young men.

When a nation goes to war it is right that its army should be raised by means of the selective draft, only there must be no question of the complete integrity of the drafters. To permit the burden to fall on those families which are prompt to answer the call to duty, whilst those who hesitate or fail are permitted to escape, is both weak and unstatesmanlike. A free country makes its own decisions, and there is a great gulf fixed between what the world has termed the human cannon fodder of men arbitrarily driven into the ranks, and the self-sacrifice made by a free nation for righteousness' sake. Men who enjoy the liberties of a free country, and yet decline to make sacrifices for that enjoyment, are unworthy of the privileges of their citizenship. The pacifist who can only see the blood of war, and who holds all warfare up to reprobation, simply values human life at a higher principle, and condemns the conduct of those forefathers who paid with their blood for the freedom he enjoys. What would he have done, it may quite frankly be asked, in the hour of the Revolution? If his ideals are true ideals, then Paul Revere was a mere maker of mischief, the minute men were agents provocateurs, Israel Putnam was setting man against man at Bunker Hill, and as for George Washington instead of being the Father of his Country, he must have been the chief villain of the tragedy. There is, of course, absolutely no escape from the argument. If it is wrong to fight today, it was wrong to fight then. And if it is unjustifiable for the United States to assist the Allies today, it was ten times more unjustifiable for France to assist the United States then.

Of course, if anyone were to maintain this, they would be compelled to go a little further, and to blame North and South alike for the Civil War. If the action of Mr. Wilson is reprehensible today, the action of Mr. Lincoln was equally reprehensible then. It was, indeed, Mr. Lincoln who devised the idea of the selective draft, and he devised it for precisely the same reason that Mr. Wilson has adopted it today, in order that liberty should not perish from off the globe. But it is wrong in any circumstances to fight, then it was wrong for the English to resist Armada, for the Dutch to resist the Inquisition, for the American colonists to resist King George, and for the North to free the slaves by force. Of course, if the pacifists knew how to restrain might without force, their argument would be irrefragable. Of course, if the world knew how to maintain its freedom not by arms but through a knowledge of Principle, but in practice, the strongest of all forces, but until it does it is better to fight for right, than to see wrong peacefully triumphant.

THE ALIEN.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

It may be doubted whether under present conditions congress will find time to amend the conscription law so as to make aliens liable for military service, but the idea behind Representative Emerson's suggestion is sound. The Cleveland man believes it unfair that while American citizens of registration age are drafted for the national army, men of the same age who happen not to be citizens should be exempt.

Accordingly, Mr. Emerson proposes that aliens resident in the United States be compelled either to enlist, make application for citizenship and thus bring themselves within the terms of the conscription act, or be deported at the option of the president. He rightly points out that the alien has most of the privileges of a citizen and should be forced to render some adequate return for the protection which the American government affords him.

Any alien who has been in this country long enough to have taken out naturalization papers and has not done so occupies a position not creditable to him, unless the nature of his work makes him a transient in essence he is a shirker, choosing to reap advantages for which he does not pay. At a time like this when the nation needs to realize its manhood resources to the fullest, something may well be done to bring the alien to an appreciation of his duty.

KERENSKY.

(Ohio State Journal.)

Kerensky is the big man in Russia. He is now premier, commander of the army, diplomat and financier, all in one. His personality reminds us of the Slav that Tolstoy predicted would lead the forces of civilization out of this terrible war and establish peace, based upon brotherhood. Kerensky seems to be developing into that kind of a man.

Spirit of the Press

A Question to the Point.

A plea has been made for the non-drafting of German-born citizens into the United States army for service in Europe, and it is difficult to withhold sympathy from such a demand although really when a man accepts the advantages of citizenship he must also accept all the responsibilities with it. But what one would like to ask the German papers, who are putting forward this plea, is for an expression of their own opinion on the illegal removal of thousands of Belgian and French men and women to the German munition works, to be employed, contrary to the laws of war, in making munitions, by forced labor, for the slaughter of their husbands or brothers or children.—Christian Science Monitor.

Little Russia's Demands.

Doubtless some measure of liberal home rule will be devised for Little Russia. Some arrangement will be made that will guarantee the Ukraine freedom of racial development. To grant such complete autonomy as is assured to Finland and Poland would be impractical. Such a policy, if logically followed, would mean the separation of Russia into innumerable independent units. The old republics of Novgorod, Pskov and Tver and many old principalities might advance a historical claim for independence.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Don't Be Dowdy.

It hardly needed the warning of the National Council of Defense that girls need not go dowdy simply to save the nation's money at this time.

Far be it from girls to lack in patriotism. They have done their best, selling flowers for Bastille Day to kissing recruits and begging for the Red Cross, but they have never considered losing any of the charm which inheres in their sex. If the time should ever come when women should suddenly adopt the costume of Jenny Wren and forswear all cosmetics, silks and beautifiers generally, we should feel that chaos had been again and the war was of little consequence.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The "Labor Scarcity."

The Industrial Commission of New York state, after a careful inquiry into the labor situation, reports that the "labor scarcity" is largely imaginary. There is really no labor scarcity at all. There is merely a "maladjustment" of labor. We have too long permitted our economic machinery to run itself. It does much well under the "laissez-faire" plan, we're accustomed to, but it never runs with full efficiency, and in a crisis like the present one it breaks down. We must come to intelligent public regulation of the labor supply. It is more important than regulation of food supply and commodity prices. The latter represent temporary problems, but the labor problem is permanent. We shall have just as much "shortage" after the war, unless we manage properly. This is a good time to get the necessary regulatory system installed.—Montreal Record-Herald.

FRENCH DISCOVERY INCREASES NERVOUS ENERGY—PUTS FLESH ON BONES OF THIN PEOPLE

PRODUCT OF FAMOUS FRENCH SCIENTIST NOW HIGHLY RECOMMENDED BY LEADING SPECIALISTS OF THREE COUNTRIES

Something over sixty years ago Pelouze, a French scientist, discovered a form of organic phosphorus which, when taken into the human system, was quickly converted into nerve tissues. Nearly half a century later, Robin, a distinguished French physician, began a scientific investigation of the use of this organic phosphorus and its effect upon the human system, with results that amazed the scientific and medical world. Since then Professor Robin's opinions have received almost universal approval; among the great clinicians and recognized authorities to support him may be mentioned Sir James Barr, London; L. H. Warner, A. M., Ph.D., M. D., former bacteriologist of St. Catherine's Hospital, New York, and such noted European investigators as Pasquale, Bulow, Delage, Bokay and Valerij. Today physicians and hospitals everywhere recognize its merits by its use in ever-increasing quantities and it is an admitted fact that in the treatment of those ailments directly or indirectly due to depleted nervous vitality, such as neurasthenia, nervous weakness, premature old age, insomnia, lack of energy, fatigue, reduced vitality, general weakness, thinness, etc., it is unequalled. It is, therefore, a matter of more than ordinary interest to all such sufferers to learn that in its pure unadulterated state this organic nerve-building phosphorus is now obtainable from drug-stalls everywhere in the form of 5-grain tablets of pure Bitro-Phosphate at a cost so low as to be within the reach of everyone. One of these tablets should be taken with each meal and the results in many instances are little short of marvelous. Dull eyes become bright, sleep is restored to the sleepless, the nerves regain their strength, thin people put on flesh and the whole system becomes charged with that strength, vitality and energy which makes life so truly worth while.

NOTE: Bitro-Phosphate, mentioned above, is a preparation of such proven merit that the manufacturers offer to return the money to any user who is not entirely satisfied with the results obtained. It is sold in this city by all first-class druggists.

Granville, July 24.—The call of the Greater Granville Association for a mass meeting of citizens tonight in the Municipal building will be headed by all who are interested in advancing the interests of the village.

The president, H. W. Deming, is a live wire and every man in the association is noted for public spirit and civic pride. At 7:30 this evening.

To those holding course tickets for the coming chautauqua, which opens in Granville on Thursday, August 2, the attractions will be taken in the order presented. But those who expect to buy separate tickets for the several entertainments which they know to be good, will be confronted with an embarrassment of riches. It is difficult to pick the high lights, when the whole program simply glitters with effulgence. There are to be stars from the firmaments of music, travel, temperance, missions, magic, the drama, patriotism and religion. You can pay the price and take your choice, or pay a little more and secure them all.

16,000 SHELLS DROP IN RHEIMS WITHIN BRIEF TWO WEEKS

[Associated Press Correspondence] French Front, July 4.—Rheims is wilting. The big cathedral city of the Champagne district has the appearance of a hollow shell, which has collapsed in parts and is rapidly subsiding into a shapeless mass.

Not only the cathedral, but all the public buildings and private dwelling houses have suffered terribly in the last half year from the raging vengeance of the German gunners, who have turned a rain of shells on the stricken city whenever their armies have been defeated at any point of the front. These defeats have been so frequent, either on a small or large scale, since the allied offensive began a year ago that the city has rarely passed more than two or three days without undergoing severe bombardment.

The extent of the undeserved punishment may be gathered from the figures relating the number of shells of all calibres poured into the streets and on the cathedral during a single fortnight from June 15 to June 28. The total between those two dates was no fewer than 16,052. On June 15, the number was 206; June 16, 1,211; June 17, 2,000; June 18, 317; June 19, 2,431; June 20, 400; June 21, 845; June 22, 1,330; June 23, 625; June 24, 1,870; June 25, 1,517; June 26, 1,400; June 27, 600; and June 28, 1,200.

There are only 5,000 persons left out of a peace time population of about 115,000. Among them are a goodly proportion of women and children. Some of the younger women have continued their work throughout, many of them being employed in the champagne cellars, where during the day they are comparatively safe from the German fire.

School is still being carried on, the classes being held below the streets surface and the municipal government is also conducted in the bowels of the earth where the city fathers meet to discuss relief measures. A visit to Cardinal Luçon, archbishop of Rheims, who has never for a moment thought of deserting his post near the cathedral, found him in very confident spirits and in full belief that the allied victory was assured. He referred in court of conversation to the great help he had received from America and from the other allies. He said:

"The entry of America into the war will surely hasten the defeat of the Germans, who in the name of their Kultur have done so much harm to civilization."

"My flock has suffered much. Over 200,000 of the people of my archdiocese are still in the hands of the Germans and many of the others have taken refuge in various parts of the country, driven from their homes before the invaders. With the help placed at my disposal by Americans and other sympathizers I have been able to relieve much distress but there is still much to do. Many have lost their all, and I should like to have at my disposal in readiness for the return of the refugees a reserve of blankets and bedding, clothing and other essentials so as to be able to provide at least some of the urgently required needs of my people, when the Germans have been driven away as they assuredly will be."

The American consulate, which has not been occupied since early in the war has not suffered greatly from the constant shell fire. One shell pierced the roof and left some marks of its explosion, while all the windows have been destroyed.

In the cathedral itself, a great change has taken place in recent months. Great gaping holes show in the roof. All the ancient stained glass has fallen out in millions of fragments onto the stone floor and as a consequence of the shell explosion in and around the building and crumbled to the flames, and at any moment a big shell may cause the whole structure to collapse.

Nearly 700 shells have hit the building. One of them, a 12 inch projectile, did not explode and it now stands on its base beside one of the pillars of nave.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy, Relief For Acid Indigestion

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full oppressive burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excessive development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms so be certain to ask for and take only Bisulphated Magnesia which is especially prepared for the above purpose. Advertisement.

ASSEMBLE STOCK FOR COUNTRY STORE AT GREAT PICNIC

The Chamber of Commerce information tent will be erected at the County Fair grounds Wednesday afternoon by Homer Allison and his assistants. The place chosen is at the opening of the famous mounds as one enters the grounds. Workmen from the Newark and Bell Telephone Companies will install phones and have them in operating order for early Thursday morning when the executive committee of the Farmers and Merchants picnic will be at work directing the closing for the big community gathering. The numbers are Automatic, 6299, Bell, 900.

All day yesterday, the phones of the Chamber of Commerce were busy as attaches called up the different business men and firms of the city who have pledged merchandise and supplies to the country store, requesting them to send their contributions to picnic headquarters in the Robinson building, 19 West Church street, where Chairman J. R. Walters and his volunteer aides are wrapping and marking the articles.

This country store, such an attraction last year, will be an even greater attraction Thursday. There will be a bigger stock of merchandise, and it will be handled in better style. Every ticket sold for ten cents and the articles called for by the tickets range in value from 10 cents to $6. The proceeds from this store will be devoted to a fund for advertising the Licking County Fair September 11, 12, 13 and 14. The business men of the county are getting behind the fair this year and the Chamber of Commerce will again render assistance in the way of prizes for school exhibits and along publicity lines.

Business houses of Newark generally will be closed Thursday. It is to be a day of social pleasure, when friends of town and country will meet, renew their acquaintanceships and make new ones. This picnic is becoming famed all over the country and will be widely copied this year in Ohio and other states. A few days ago, a well known Cleveland writer visited Newark to get data about the picnic for an illustrated story for a well known periodical of national circulation. He pronounced it one of the most unique, yet effective methods of welding together the people of Licking county and predicted the idea in a few years would be in general use.

OUT THEY GO

Some of the best bargains ever offered in men's furnishings are still to be had—and such real bargains too—said Wales Collins, the Haberdasher, at his store, 24 South Third street. Many have taken this opportunity to supply their needs in wearing apparel for many months to come, because they knew that these goods represented the choicest articles to be had and could not again be duplicated at the prices. I am going out of business so come in today and get some of these bargains. 7-24-17

KERENSKY TO RULE WITH IRON HAND; SITUATION GRAVE

[Associated Press Telegram]

Petrograd, July 24.—A "blood and iron" policy will be put into effect if needed to save Russia, by the government of Premier Kerensky to which unlimited power has been granted. In an interview today the premier said:

"Relying upon the confidence of the masses and the army, the government will save Russia and Russia unity by blood and iron, if argument and reason, honor and conscience are not sufficient."

"The situation at the front is very serious and demands heroic measures. But I am convinced the organism of the state is sufficiently vigorous to be cured without a partial amputation."

"BEYOND BELIEF" WOMAN DECLARED

Relief Tanlac Gave Ailing Newark Woman Beggars Description.

"The wonderful relief Tanlac gave me is beyond belief," exclaimed Mrs. Anna Fisher, 21 Clinton street, Newark, Tuesday. Enthusiasm, inspired by the extraordinary remedial power of Tanlac, impelled her to pay the Master Medicine this glowing tribute. Every woman who reads her story will instantly see why Mrs. Fisher thinks Tanlac is wonderful.

"My stomach made me a very sick woman," she continued. "Eating always gave me misery, such as bloating, pain and shortness of breath. I used to get nervous, felt dizzy and had spots before my eyes, my heart used to jump. Sometimes I couldn't eat and got very little sleep. I got a little weaker every day. Really, I felt so sick I used to ask myself, 'What will I do?'"

"My friends told me what to do. 'Take Tanlac,' they said. I did and now I am so glad. Tanlac built up my whole system and now it does its work just right. I am not tormented any more with nervousness, dizziness or palpitation of the heart and my appetite is just as keen as it can be. I can eat so much of everything and every bite tastes so fine. I sleep soundly every night and wake in the morning feeling strong and full of life."

Tanlac, the new vegetable tonic, stomach, appetizer, combatant and invigorant, is being specially introduced at W. W. Erman's Arcade Drug store, where the Tanlac man gives the particulars to steadily growing crowds daily. Tanlac may also be produced at every first-class drug store in Newark. (Adv.)

NEWARK MEN PERFECT MOVIE MACHINE TO PROJECT "FLICKERLESS" PICTURES

Would you like to sit through a five-reel motion picture, enjoy its every detail and leave the theatre without that tired feeling in your eyes?

That is not an impossibility, according to Newark men who today incorporated The Kinardt Company of Newark, for $17,000. The incorporators are Charles E. Hollander and Malcolm H. Baker and others.

The company controls the patent recently perfected in this city by J. W. Kinsey and J. E. Morhardt. In a little room off an alley in South Third street these men have spent many weary hours making mechanically perfect the system of reflectors by which they declare the "flicker" in motion pictures will be eliminated, a saving of electrical current will be effected and make it possible for motion pictures to make a great saving in film footage.

In exterior experience the new Kinardt machine does not differ greatly from the picture machines in general. In operation the mechanics is entirely different. The reflector idea is the basis of the innovation and by the use of two of these tiny reflectors smaller than two postage stamps, the rays of light, after passing through the film are deflected from direct projection on the curtain and passed through other reflectors and finally through the last lenses.

The inventors have used the theory of dissolving one picture into another to eliminate the flicker.
Nearly every one knows that moving pictures are not moving pictures at all. They only "seem" to move. A large number of photographic pictures, with the images in different positions, projected in very rapid succession on the screen, give the images the appearance of moving.

In the present day picture machine, a shutter on the front of the projector shuts off the light for an instant between pictures. The period in which no light on the screen is so short that the optic nerve does not transmit the sensation to the brain but the interval is there just the same and the sensitive nerves of the eye are fatigued by the constant shutting off and turning on of the light.

The new machine by the arrangement of its reflectors, which is a carefully guarded secret, dissolves each succeeding picture gradually into the preceding one. Thus there is continually 100 per cent light on the curtain.

The speed of the film passing through the machine can be regulated absolutely by the operator. This can be done by the present day operator provided he doesn't reduce the speed of the projector to less than 16 pictures a second. The Kinardt machine may be slowed down to one picture a second or stopped entirely, at the operator wishes, and the picture remains motionless on the screen for a short time. Motion picture machines now can not be stopped as the light au-tomatically is shut off the moment the crank stops, because of fire risk.

The new machine permits the pictures projected to be analyzed, as the "movement" of the figures may be absolutely controlled. In a picture shown in the demonstration given for the benefit of newspaper men, a stone cutter struck a piece of stone with a heavy sledge and the picture was stopped, leaving the broken stone suspended stationary in mid-air, while the sledge in the hands of the workman also was held suspended in a difficult position.

Standard film is used in the machine but special film may be used whereby the same results on the curtain are obtained and a saving of 50 to 70 per cent of film footage is effected. The makers also have found that there is a great saving in electrical current and by improvement in the lamp still further saving of "juice" may be secured.

The new projector is of sturdy and attractive design and the lamp house is positioned as in present practice, in fact standard practice has been adhered to as much as possible and consistent with the prismatic reflector movements, but the machine is much more simple in mechanism than the present machines.

Consider that today when you sit for one hour at the movies viewing pictures projected at the normal minimum speed of sixteen pictures per second, by a machine using the usual three segment shutter your eyes are called upon to blend one hundred seventy-two thousand eight hundred and thirty pictures because each successive picture is thrown on and cut off from the curtain three times in an effort to fool the brain by equalizing the flicker.

In the new "Kinardt" this constitutional blending of successive pictures is done by the machine itself in the dissolving and the eye shock is therefore absent, permitting the spectator to view the pictures from close up without discomfort.

RAILROADS URGED TO RUSH WORK ON TERMINALS HERE

J. N. Fugh, as secretary of the subway committee of Newark, has written to each of the railroad saying that the city, in vacating certain streets and alleys, has done its part and that the railroads are holding the work up now.

The railroads are particularly urged in the letter to begin work on the new freight houses as they would materially lighten the congestion here if they were built.

Due to the high cost of materials now the construction of the subways is considered impracticable at this time but the new freight terminals are badly needed.

ROTARY CLUB MET THIS NOON

The speaker at today's session of the Rotary club was Mr. Fred C.
Evans who gave an insight into the real estate business. Mr. Evans has had much experience in the past twenty years in laying out additions and in building homes. His first venture in real estate was the purchase of the property at the corner of Locust and Fourth streets at the time he was a clerk for the B. & O.
Railroad company.

Mr. Eugene Johnson, a real estate man of Piqua, Ohio, who with his wife and daughter is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, was Mr. Jones' guest at the Rotary luncheon and gave an interesting talk telling of the activities of Piqua's live Rotary club.

A good letter from John S. Fleck,
Second Battery, Eighth division, Ft.
Benj. Harrison, Ind., telling of the entertainment by the Indianapolis
Rotary club of all Rotarians in Ft.
Harrison, was read. At the Ft. Harrison camp meeting General Clem was made an honorary member of the Indianapolis club.

John C. Swartz, a new member of the Newark club, attended today's session at which nearly every member was present.

OLD SOL MAKES UP FOR LOST TIME; IT'S 90 TODAY

This is the way the fat man described today's weather, when asked the question: "How do you like the heat?" He said, minus coat, collar and tie, with shirt rolled up, and an electric fan, trying to remind him of the lake, especially if his vacation was taken several weeks ago, before "Old Sol" began to smile so broadly.
But there's not much reason to complain for the mercury has risen but one degree since yesterday and it is 90 in the shade at 1:30 and the J. C.
Brown grocery, but said the fat man: "There ain't no shade!"
Therefore his ejaculations are in order.

companied her father.
